Bissell to Join Research Group

Richard M. Bissell Jr., who recently resigned as deputy director-plans of the Central Intelligence Agency, has been appointed executive vice president of the Institute for Defense Analyses.

Bissell's appointment is effective March 1, Garrison Norton, Institute president, said. Bissell also will serve as a consultant to the White House staff on certain international economic programs.

The Institute is a private research organization formed by nine universities to aid the Government in scientific and technical areas.
